

Girls Inc. Winter Vacation 2017:

Winter and Wonder

Tuesday, December 26:

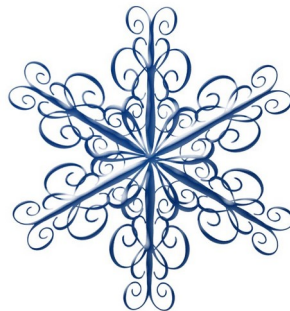

ICE COLD SCIENCE

Members will spend the day exploring the science of temperature, zoological habits of winter animals and mapping the life cycle of blizzards. They will play games to test their STEM knowledge and have the chance to work in our STEM Lab with digital and standard chemistry sets.

Thursday, December 28

COZY CREATIONS

There is nothing more cozy than curling up with a good book during the cold weather. Today members will learn the value of a good story while reading Winter Classics like The Polar Express and The Snowy Day. Members will build literacy skills while playing games and trying their hands at visual literacy with lessons in painting, sketching and mixed media arts.

girls
inc.

220 Worthen Street
Lowell, MA 01852

Wednesday, December 27:

MAGICAL MYTHS

Winter has long been a magical time of the year. All cultures, civilizations and societies have myths and legends associated with this time of year. Today members will explore those stories, create their own legendary winter characters, and pen an origin myth about winter.

Friday, December 29

A BOLD NEW YEAR

On the last day of our Winter and Wonder Vacation Week, members will look forward to the year to come. They will have the chance to reflect on the year that has passed and plan for a successful New Year. The day will feature a variety of Strong, Smart, and Bold Lessons from a selection of Girls Inc. National Curricula, including our Discovery Leadership and Be Bold Programs.

FOR PROGRAM INFORMATION CONTACT:

Pamela Larocque

Program Coordinator

PH: 978.458.6529 ext. 104

EMAIL: programcoordinator@girlsinclowell.org

FOR ENROLLMENT INFORMATION CONTACT:

Bob MacPhail

Business Manager

PH: 978.458.6529 ext. 101

EMAIL: rmachphail@girlsinclowell.org